DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In response to the amendment received May 22, 2006:
 - a. Claims 1-23 are pending;
 - b. The drawing objections have been withdrawn;
 - c. The 112 rejections have been withdrawn in light of the amendment;
 - d. The prior art rejection of record is withdrawn in light of the amendment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is unclear how humidity can be transferred in the anode or cathode areas when the flow channels therein are separated in a fluid-tight manner. If the channels are separated in a fluid-tight manner then humidity could not be exchanged since it is a fluid. Therefore the claimed invention is not reasonably enabled.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-23 now recite that flow channels are separated from one another in a fluid-tight manner however the claims fail to define the nature or arrangement of the flow channels nor reasonably describe how the channels, whichever channels they may be, are separated as claimed. In addition it is unclear how humidity can be transferred in the anode or cathode areas when the flow channels therein are separated in a fluid-tight manner. If the channels are separated in a fluid-tight manner then humidity could not be exchanged since it is a fluid.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
